Call Me Dictator 'Arry Now!—

"It's dictatorial and undemocratic," that was the war cry of the CIO when they first pulled away from the A. F. of L. . . . that is when they couldn't get their way about things.

Now I'm wondering about the alien dictator in the CIO, given that privilege only last Wednesday in convention in the southern part of our golden state.

"If they talk about me now," says the dictator, "I'll expell them from the union."

So Alien 'Arry goes on and on, for now he's in the saddle and everything is democratic . . . . I don't think.

The CIO started out like a house on fire, with their bellyaching and yelping about everybody and everything, about the dictators in the A. F. of L., about our government, about "red" baiting and everything they could lay their tongues to . . . but now again I'm wondering what the rank and file think about a certain "few" giving the alien the right to expell them from the union should they talk about "'Arry's 20 years' residence in America without taking out his citizenship papers."

Who's the dictator now, Mr. and Mrs. CIO'er?

Threaten Strike If Alien Is Deported—

'Arry Bridges' fumings that his trial of alleged "communistic affiliations" and deportation hearing is "aimed at labor, not Bridges" were blasted last week by the chief of the department of immigration and naturalization.

"This is to be the hearing of Harry Bridges, the alien," emphatically declared Chief Maj. L. B. Schofield.

"We're not concerned with Bridges, the (CIO) labor leader. He'd like to make it appear so. The government's case is not going into his waterfront activity, nor any of the strikes here.

"He's just another alien who has violated the law."

Yes, the group supporting Bridges are now trying to make the rank and file of labor believe that "labor is on trial" . . . but it isn't, my friends . . . the one that's on trial is Alien 'Arry Bridges, no one else.

And rumor has it that if the alien CIO leader is deported the whole waterfront gang will go on strike.

Let them go . . . it will mean a quicker end for the dual group. And the sooner, the better.

Turned Out in Full Strength—

The mobilization meeting, called by the "red" hots in front of a local public building last week drew full-strength of the radical groups . . . about 75 showed up.

This meeting, supposedly called in the name of "peace" was as useless as a fifth wheel on a wagon.

As usual the "red" hots began their fiery speeches with "down with war." One speaker criticized the gang because it was so small. He also stated that his union was unanimous against a resolution "outlawing the communist party from the ballot." He didn't say however, that this statement was only his personal opinion. (I have his speech in full.)

Another "red" hot said they forgot to sing the national anthem but would remember to sing it after she got through with her "leftist" speech.

The meeting went on and on, like all left-wing meetings, but no singing of the national anthem, until everyone was about ready to call it quits, then some wise guy yelled "how about the singing of the national anthem?"

And low and behold just before adjournment of the "mobilization" meeting a record was played . . . sure enough it was the national anthem . . . and not one voice was heard from the crowd.

I'm told no one knew the words . . . but I'll betcha if it was the "communist international" they'd be all singing, and singing pretty loud.

Right Way of Doing Things—

In Seattle this week the international association of machinists suspended 10,000 from the union because of "communist influence within."

Harvey Brown, the general president, charged that about 100 communists were at the bottom of the trouble, and when they were "purged" everything would be all right again.

Brown has been lenient with the local for some months, but this week the "commies" took hold of things so Brown suspended them from all union benefits.

It's the right way of dealing with a bunch of "commies."

Other unions should adopt the methods of the I. A. of M.

Union made brands have a good show on the market if unionists become acquainted with them.

TALK ON STATE APPRENTICESHIP SYSTEM TO BE HEARD SATURDAY

Hundreds to Hear State Officials at Luncheon, Hotel Oakland

An explanation of the workings of the California Apprenticeship council, as it affects training on the national defense program and training within industry, will be given tomorrow (Saturday) at a luncheon at the hotel Oakland, sponsored by employers, labor groups and the Oakland public schools.

Every agency of government, affected by or interested in this program, will be called upon for a short but complete presentation of the apprenticeship system as it affects national defense.

Representatives of the A. F. of L. building trades council and employers' groups will attend.

On the program are listed speakers from the Oakland public schools; the California Apprenticeship council; bureau of trade and industrial education; department of employment and others.

The following organizations will be represented:

Associated general contractors, labor unions, painting contractors, automotive industries, shipyards, steel and foundry contractors, machine shops and city officials from Oakland, Berkeley and Alameda.

Luncheon will be served at 12:30 sharp.

Sunset-McKee Is One of Union Sales Book Companies On Pacific Coast

Warehousemen Sign Company to Union Agreement

Signing an agreement this week with the Oakland warehousemen's union, the Sunset-McKee Sales Book company, 2101 Livingston street, Oakland is considered today as one of the 100 per cent sales book companies along the Pacific coast.

The company, according to union officials, has had agreements with the manifold book workers and the printing pressmen for several years.

A committee representing the central labor council, Paul Fuhrer, George Towers and William P. Fee, were successful in signing the agreement after a short meeting.

Procter and Gamble Products Listed "Unfair" by Allied Printing Trades

The Procter and Gamble company, Cincinnati, Ohio, was placed on the official "We Don't Patronize" list of the allied printing trades council of that state recently.

The reasons for listing the company as "unfair" is because of the fact the company has refused to use the printing trades label on printed matter.

"Until the company complies with our request we are urging every union member and their many friends not to patronize Procter and Gamble products," said Thomas Drew, leading the fight in Cincinnati.

GARDENERS RETURN TO OAK KNOLL JOB

Men employed at the Oak Knoll country club, members of the local gardeners' union, returned to work this week after a short strike over wages.

According to Don Witt, union business representative, the dispute has been adjusted satisfactorily to the union.

DIVIDENDS JUMP

Dividends paid by industrial and banking corporations during March were the largest for that month since 1937, a New York "Times" compilation revealed this week.

Fifty-three corporations paid extra dividends, 24 increased payments, 25 made their first payment and 84 were able to pay back dividends.

Firemen Thank Organized Labor for Support of No. 11; 72-Hr. Week Victory Predicted

Labor Rallies to Shorten Work-Week Of Fire Fighters; Large Vote Expected

by ARTHUR BERGFELD, Campaign Secretary

Local No. 55 Fire Fighters, desire to thank, through the Labor Journal, all of its friends in the labor movement for the courteous treatment received by their speakers who appeared before the various local union meetings.

The encouraging response to our plea for support to reduce the service hours for firemen from 84 hours a week to 72 hours a week leads us to believe that with labor's united support at the ballot box next Tuesday, April 15th, victory will be ours and assure us long-delayed relief from the horse and buggy age system of long hours for firemen.

We thank the central labor council, its president, William Fee and Secretary G. A. Silverthorn, for their assistance; the building trades council, and its president, James H. Quinn, who as a labor leader and city councilman has done much toward bringing our problem before the public; Charles Real of the teamsters; and other union representatives. We thank all locals who sent in their personal endorsements.

The 72-hour week Amendment No. 11 proposal is in line with service hours in every important city in California and elsewhere, while Oakland firemen have had no reduction in hours since 1921.

Give More Jobs

The proposition will give jobs to approximately fifty young men, and will add to the fire protection of the taxpayer. In addition it will aid our national defense program in carrying out its purpose to strengthen every coastal city fire department to guard against sabotage, and at the same time have a sufficient number of trained men who can be used to pass that fire fighting knowledge on to the citizens who may be needed in emergencies, as is done in England.

It is a known fact that more than fifty per cent of the regular firemen in London have already been killed. One of the lessons London has learned is that it does not pay to run a fire department with inadequate equipment or personnel. In the present crisis the same thing can happen here.

We want to correct a false statement made in an "unfair" circular distributed from door to door, that only 44 men in the fire department are in favor of the 72-hour week. This is not only untrue but ridiculous on the face of it, that any man would be opposed to shorter hours. The fact is that approximately 96 per cent are heart and soul behind this proposition and have contributed money toward the campaign.

Appeal to Labor to Vote

We urge every man or woman in the labor movement to make certain of casting their vote in favor of Amendment No. 11, otherwise your goodwill and endorsements will count for nothing.

Certain interests opposed to labor are spending money to defeat this proposition and we earnestly need your help to overcome this opposition. Last minute political tricks will no doubt be used to fool the people and it is only by united effort at the ballot box that this unfair practice can be circumvented.

This is your fight as well as ours, let us fight on to victory.

Boilermakers Call Special Meet; To Vote on Agreement

All members must bring their due books in order to gain admission, McClelland, said.

WARDROBES, UNIFORMS OF WAITRESSES EXEMPT FROM ATTACHMENT

Safely through both houses of the legislature and awaiting signature on Governor Olson's desk is A. B. 455, introduced by Assemblyman Meehan of Oakland, and supported by the California State Federation of Labor, which exempts from attachment the wardrobe of entertainers, the uniform of waitresses, and the tools and implements of a cook.

On the other side of the ledger, however, a bill eliminating oral examinations for firemen, sponsored by the federation and introduced by Senator Seawell, was killed in the senate committee on governmental efficiency.

CORRECTION!

Last week's edition carried a news item stating that the California State Federation of Labor was backing a bill in Sacramento favoring a $20 a week minimum wage for women.

In a letter to the local central labor council, signed by the secretary of the state federation of labor, this statement was denied. "We do not favor hours and wages of workers being fixed by law," the letter said in part.

Laborers' Union Meeting Postponed

There will be no meeting of Laborers' Union, Local No. 304 tonight.

Because of Good Friday the meeting has been postponed, according to Lee Lalor, union secretary.

Next regular meeting of the union will be held Friday, April 25, Lalor said.

Tonight's meeting was postponed by action of the executive board.

90-DAY DRIVE TO AID BRITISH LABOR, LAUNCHED

In response to a wired request from Matthew Woll, chairman of the American Committee to Aid British Labor, Secretary Edward D. Vandeleur, of the California State Federation of Labor, last week announced his acceptance of the chairmanship of the California division of the committee.

"I am informed by Mr. Woll that a ninety-day drive is being launched to enlist the full cooperation of American labor in the campaign to help their British brothers," Secretary Vandeleur said. "President Green of the American Federation of Labor is honorary chairman of the committee."

He said that within a few days full details of the campaign would be available to central labor bodies and local unions and urged that the fullest co-operation be extended.

Beauticians in Campaign Against Charles Art Here

Continuing their campaign of "We Don't Patronize" against the Charles Art Hairdresser shop, 1715 Telegraph avenue, Oakland, Beauticians' Union, Local 134 today urged their many friends to stay away from this "unfair" place.

After several months of negotiations the management of this "unfair" place has refused to meet union wages and the closed shop, union officials announced.

The Charles Art operators only receive a commission without a wage guarantee, the union leaders said. Union shops pay a guarantee with commissions, they stated.

Trade unionists, members of ladies' auxiliaries and friends of the union workers are requested to refrain from patronizing this non-union business house until an agreement is reached with the union.

Meadowlark Dairy Placed on Unfair List by Council

Dispute Arises Over Low Wages Paid at Pleasanton Plant

With the sanction of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county the Meadowlark dairy at Pleasanton was placed on the official "We Don't Patronize" list this week at the request of Milk Wagon Drivers' Union, Local No. 302.

Four members of the union are involved in the dispute over wages.

Since last December union officials have tried to adjust their difficulty with Mr. Biggs, owner of the dairy, but without results. The owner, the officials state, continually refuses to meet the union's request.

Until the men were called out of the plant they were receiving a top of $100 a month which is approximately $65 a month below the union wage paid in Metropolitan Oakland; the union offered to compromise their differences but the owner refused to meet any requests whatsoever.

This firm delivers "certified milk" to Oakland, San Francisco, Hayward, Alameda and Burlingame.

Representatives of the labor council and the milk wagon drivers' union are asking that you "do not patronize" this "unfair" firm.

"Fake" Advertising Solicitors Hit by Central Labor Council

Merchants and Unions Asked to Co-operate In Driving Out Advertising "Racketeers"

For several months the Central Labor Council of Alameda county, A. F. of L., through its executive board, has been carrying on an extensive investigation of "pressure selling" of advertising. Its investigation has disclosed, unfortunately, that in some instances the abuses have been connected with A. F. of L. affiliates, and in other instances, though the matters have no connection with the A. F. of L., the "salesmen" have misrepresented themselves to the merchant by saying the labor movement is sponsoring the project. With respect to the A. F. of L. affiliates, the council has found that some have been misled into believing the "venture" proposed by the promoters would be beneficial to unions and union employers. Usually the contrary is true; and, worst of all, the labor movement through no fault of its own, is subjected to undeserved criticism and disrepute. Telephone solicitations are usually made and in some instances employers have even been threatened with boycott unless they "sign on the dotted line."

The central labor council wishes to call to the attention of all unions and affiliates and to employers who may be solicited the following:

1. The council will not endorse or sanction telephone solicitation;
2. The council will not issue credentials for solicitation unless the affiliate first presents its plan and has it approved by the council;
3. Any solicitations by persons without credentials from the central labor council should be turned down and all unions should refuse any promotional plan unless first sanctioned by the council;
4. Credentials should be carefully examined as to date of expiration. The council gives credentials only for limited periods of time and sometimes they are not turned in on expiration date.
5. Read the contract carefully that is presented by the solicitor and do not be misled by emblems. The real story is usually told in small print.

"The co-operation of the labor movement is essential in putting a stop to this form of pressure salesmanship which usually nets the promoter most of the money and the union very little," the council warned.

Labor Maps Fight to Defeat "Hot Cargo" Bill in Assembly

Unions in California to Ask Governor Olson to Veto Vicious Legislation Should Bill Pass

Only a last ditch fight in the assembly and a veto by Governor Olson stood today between organized labor and the loss of its right of secondary boycott.

The assembly labor and capital committee, which had been counted upon by labor to table S. B. 877, sponsored by industrial and agricultural interests, Monday night sent the bill out to the floor of the assembly with a "do pass" recommendation, after adding an amendment which labor spokesmen declared would only serve to "tighten further the noose around the neck of organized labor."

The amendment offered by Assemblyman Bashore purported to make the prohibition against "hot cargo" and the secondary boycott applicable to employers as well as to labor.

Labor spokesmen pointed out that there was no way in which this prohibition could be made effective against employers, and that the amendment was so deceptively worded as to further the use of secondary boycotts by employers against labor instead of restricting it.

"This bill is a go-ahead signal to every chiseler against labor in the state of California," they declared. "Under it unions are prevented from helping each other in the face of the combined might of industry and agriculture."

The amendment by Assemblyman Bashore was submitted the moment debate on the bill concluded. Industrial and agricultural spokesmen, acting as if the matter had been carefully rehearsed, jumped to their feet and accepted the amendment. As some of them explained privately later, the amendment took nothing away from the employer and prohibited him from doing nothing which he was not already forbidden to do.

Assemblyman Paul Richie of San Diego made a strong fight against the amendment and the bill. He described the bill as an abridgment of labor's civil liberties and characterized the amendment as "deceptive."

Votes Recorded

Those voting "no" with labor were: John B. Pelletier of Los Angeles; Augustus F. Hawkins of Los Angeles; Thomas A. Maloney of San Francisco; Paul A. Richie of San Diego; and Jack B. Tenney of Inglewood.

The assemblymen voting against labor were: Lee Bashore, Glendora; Michael J. Burns, Eureka; Harvey E. Hastain, Brawley; Charles W. Lyon, Beverly Hills; Charles W. Stream, Chula Vista; James E. Thorp, Lockeford; and Clyde A. Watson, Orange.

Approximately five hundred labor representatives from all over California were present for the committee hearing.

Immediately following the action of the committee, Edward D. Vandeleur, secretary of the California State Federation of Labor, mapped plans for a last ditch fight to defeat the bill on the floor of the assembly. He called upon every union and union member in California to demonstrate in the most unmistakable fashion that organized labor regarded a vote for S. B. 877, in its amended form, as an act of political warfare against the men and women who labor for a living.

"Every union in California should promptly write and wire Governor Olson," Vandeleur said, "asking him to veto Senate Bill 877, the so-called anti-hot cargo and secondary boycott bill, in the event it passes the assembly."

OFFICIALS OF CARMEN PREPARE FOR NLRB VOTE

Greyhound Drivers To Vote on Affiliation

Edward McMorrow, international vice president and general executive board member of the Amalgamated Association of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Employes' Union of America and J. J. Woods, editor of the carmen's journal, are in Oakland outlining plans for the coming NLRB election of all drivers on the Pacific Greyhound lines.

The NLRB election will begin May 5 on lines covering seven western states; it will take about six days to complete the vote. The amalgamated and the railway trainmen will be the only organizations on the ballot.

According to Woods the amalgamated has enjoyed contractural relations with the Pacific Greyhound lines since 1937; most of the drivers are now members of the amalgamated, he said.

Assisting McMorrow and Woods in the campaign to bring all Greyhound drivers into the carmen's union are President Boyd of Local 1125 of San Francisco and O. A. Rowan and J. Perkins of Oakland.

Nine hundred drivers are employed by the Greyhound lines.

Your union label is a guarantee that you are on the right way.

Fee Makes Appeal to Vote, Tuesday

Oakland Election Is Important to Labor, Says AFL Leader

Organized labor members and friends were urged today to vote next Tuesday in Oakland. The "request to vote" order was made by William P. Fee, president of the Central Labor Council of Alameda county. He said:

"It is the duty of every trade unionist to exercise his or her right as an American citizen and go to the polls next Tuesday and vote. I am making a special appeal to every member of the American Federation of Labor, living in Oakland, not to forget their friends in public office while casting their ballot. The city election is important to us as union members; we must vote in order to keep our friends in office."

Fee also made an appeal to the citizenry of Oakland to vote "for" amendment No. 11, the 72-hour week, for firemen.

Cannery Workers Turn Down Offer Of Employers

Workers Seek Increase As Costs Raise

By a vote of 4 to 1 the Cannery Workers' Council of Northern California, represented by the eleven American Federation of Labor fruit and vegetable unions, in secret balloting last Friday night rejected the California processors and growers' proposal for the 1941 canning season.

At the same meeting the cannery workers indicated by better than 72 per cent of the union membership that strike action would be taken unless further negotiations would result in a more reasonable wage scale proposal from the growers.

Statistics, the cannery workers point out, prove that the canned goods retail prices have increased from 10 to 30 per cent in the last four months with no increase in wages to the 60,000 cannery workers. The cost of labor which has been stationary in the canning industry is only 10 per cent of the cost of production.

The cannery workers, according to Daniel V. Flanagan, organizer of the western office of the A. F. of L and coordinator for the northern California cannery unions, said the workers are seeking a 15 cents per hour raise, which will increase the cost of labor 2½ cents, less than 8 cents per case of canned goods.

Circulars Thrown About by Those Opposed to Unions

The scurrilous literature now being circulated about Oakland against the 72-hour week for fire fighters, is distributed by non-unionists.

Sponsored by the so-called "taxpayers' association" who are supposed to represent those paying taxes in Alameda county and the city of Oakland, in all businesses, the scurrilous literature carries the "bug" of an out-of-the-county printing office.

"It would seem to us, as a large taxpaying body affiliated with union labor that the so-called association would first consider the taxpayers in the printing business here before going to another county to have work done," said local labor leaders this week.

"If this group was consistent with the taxpayers then why do they go to non-Alameda county taxpayers with work rightfully belonging to Alameda county employers," they said.

It is estimated that over 95 per cent of the membership of union labor in Alameda county own their own homes, either in whole or in part. The taxpayers' association, opposed to the 72-hour week for firemen in Oakland, do not represent this group, or thousands of other independent taxpayers, the labor leaders announced.

LOOKING AHEAD

Mr. Emerson had not been long dead when a candid and possibly somewhat inquisitive friend called on the widow.

After a chat on affairs in general, the caller remarked:

"As your husband died intestate, you will of course get a third?"

"Oh, indeed, I nope to get a fourth," was the prompt reply. "He was my third, you know."

Plumbers and Gas Fitters' Notes

by SAMUEL J. DONOHUE

Attention Members!

Any one planning on coming into the office on Saturday morning, April 12, is requested to do so before 11:30 in order that I may have time to be present at the opening of the luncheon meeting of the apprenticeship council of the state of California. The purpose of the meeting is to afford an opportunity to all interested persons to become acquainted with the workings of the California Apprenticeship council, and to learn just what the apprenticeship training program really is.

Among the speakers who will address the meeting will be H. N. Wright, chairman, national defense, Oakland public schools; L. A. Ireland, chairman, California Apprenticeship council; Alexander Heron, district representative, training within industry; John C. Beswick, chief, bureau of trade and industrial education; R. G. Wagenet, director, department of employment; Archie J. Mooney, secretary, California Apprenticeship council.

In order to make sure that the rules of the local union are being lived up to, I request every member of the local union going to work on any job in Hayward, Castro valley, or the southern section of the county, if he is layed-off before the job is entirely completed, to notify the office immediately.

D. C. PAINTERS, LATHERS, GAIN WAGE BOOST PACTS

Approximately 1,000 members of the A. F. of L. painters and lathers' union of the District of Columbia will receive higher wages according to new agreements negotiated with employers.

John Locher, secretary of the Washington Building and Construction Trades Council, said the painters will be paid $1.71 3-7 per hour instead of $1.57 1-7, an increase of 14 2-7 cents. Their work day will remain at seven hours. Under the new provisions the lathers will receive $14 instead of $13 per day on all work on which bids are awarded after March 31.

About Time

It's about time somebody told the real story connected with the recent "wave of strikes" that has been jeopardizing our national security.

It's about time the American public stopped believing, if they are, the "bunk" that is being spread by the money-backed newspapers.

Last year, although it was hushed up in the newspapers, there was considerable trouble brewing in Washington, D. C., because the manufacturers who were to put out airplanes, guns, ammunition, etc., went on strike. Yes, they who today are "yelping" about every day-old strike put up by legitimate labor, went on strike against the American people by refusing for weeks and weeks to accept government orders unless they were assured of huge profits. Unless, in fact, in many instances, the government (you and your neighbors) paid for and built factories for them to make their profits in. It got so bad that the government was forced to threaten to take over and manufacture these war essentials. I believe that the blame for strikes still can be laid at the door of the corporations, in most instances.

The secretary of labor, Madame Perkins, the president of the United States, Mr. Roosevelt, both made statements to the effect that strikes were not above normal for the times. In fact it was implied that strikes were to be expected when the cost of living goes up and when the demand for labor becomes greater.

We personally believe the "wave of strikes" are a result of organized and premeditated newspaper advertising, advertising instigated, actually and otherwise, by "big business." We know that there are considerably fewer disturbances than at the comparable time in the last war or even in 1937.

In all arguments centering around this controversy there very seldom is the proper weight laid on the point that is strongest in favor of the working man. No workingman is going to go out on strike unless he is pretty sure that what he is asking is fair and justified. After all, the workingman is the most vulnerable of all people in our economic system. If he doesn't work, there is no paycheck. If there is no pay check there is no food, no clothing for his wife and kiddies. Is it sensible to think any workingman would strike for a "foolishness" and thereby jeopardize the ones dearest to his heart? It is only when the workingman realizes that he is getting "gypped", when he realizes that he is not and his children are not getting the proper food or the proper clothing, then, and only then, does he strike. And he wouldn't be a true red-blooded American if he didn't.

Agreement Signed

As we reported last week, the San Mateo Paint Makers' Union No. 1053, which has its entire membership and officers in one plant, signed a five year agreement with the Fuller Co.

As a unionist we criticize the agreement because it would not protect me or my brothers from subversive groups, from employer intrigue, from the CIO or from a company union . . . in other words, it doesn't contain a "union shop" clause.

Secondly, I would not be protected from having relatives of the boss, or friends of the boss take my job at the boss' whim . . . in

by C. ROY HEINRICHS

Perhaps we can all learn something from our youngsters.

It came to our attention a few days ago that a certain boy scout leader had been taking his troop occasionally into a certain restaurant in Alameda for refreshments after meeting.

One day recently when the troop approached the restaurant they noticed pickets parading in front of the place. A 12-year-old scout spoke up:

"Mr. Scoutmaster, I believe we should not go in there."

Mr. Scoutmaster said, "I guess I can take you boys wherever I choose."

"I won't go in there," said the boy, and two other boys stepped out of line with him.

So, while the rest of the troop passed the picket line into the place, the three loyal sons of union members walked across the street to a place displaying the union shop card.

President B. A. Brundage of Bill Posters and Billers' Union No. 44 visited the league office a few days ago. Discussing the union products exhibition here, and union-label buying generally, he said:

"I believe most strikes would be unnecessary, and the union labor program would be well on the way to real success if all union members consistently demanded the union label, shop card and service button. Our collective purchasing power is strong enough to command the respect of both the public and industry if we would only apply it."

Richmond Manufacturing company and Cameron Manufacturing company of Napa have this week been added to those displaying union-made wearing apparel at the label show.

A new sign is going up on our building advertising the free exhibit of union-made products.

A letter has been sent out from the central labor council to all affiliated unions in Alameda county urging affiliation with the union label league. Our campaign to stimulate union-label buying will be as successful as we choose to make it by the co-operation of all of organized labor. Every union should be a part of the label league and should have its full share of delegates at every meeting.

To Meet April 24

Regular meeting of the league was held last night. Next meeting Thursday, April 24, at 8 o'clock in Carpenters' hall, 763 Twelfth street.

We are told there will be no new war millionaires. Yeah—we know why. The veteran millionaires of world war No. 1 have called a family reunion and voted to exclude outsiders!

Election is next Tuesday. Now, all together:

James H. Quinn for councilman! A decided "YES" vote on amendment No. 11! Let's make it unanimous!

Can't you see that by buying non-union goods, you are cutting your own wages. Don't be an ostrich!

Dinner Dance

Monday evening, April 7, the entertainment committee met to discuss the dinner-dance to be held at the hotel Oakland on the evening of May 3. At this meeting the committee decided that men on working cards from this local as well as members of 342 should buy tickets from the local office or from some committee member. Mr. Quinn attended this meeting and said that the entertainment end of the party is ready with the best talent available in Oakland to perform for us.

May we stress the point that your cards for the dinner-dance must be in the office by April 25 to secure your reservations. Tickets are selling fast and furiously so be sure to get yours early. Do not worry about parking lots as there are several union parking lots around the hotel.

Softball

Now that the sunshine has finally come to our fair Pacific shores it's about time the softball team gets going and starts the ball rolling. Let's get out there Reck and Scott, Sr.

Bowling

How about the bowling match between the apprentices and journeymen? The apprentices are ready, how about you journeymen!

Question?

What was Bill Reck doing Sunday morning at 6:30 riding around Lake Merritt on a bicycle?

Short Short Story

It seems that George Stahlberg, an apprentice at Dow Chemical Co., started out to break a bronco and ended up with a fractured knee and skull. You see, the bronco went south, but not with Stahlberg. He went west, over the corral fence and into a pile of rocks. Take our advice George; stay with the welding machines. They don't buck.

Incidentally, we're still waiting for our cigars "Senor" Wulbern!

Heinz Signs AFL Pact; Covers 1,800 Employes

The H. J. Heinz company, signed an agreement with the American Federation of Labor Local Union covering 1,800 of the 2,300 employes at the Pittsburgh plant. It was the first labor agreement with an "outside" union signed by the firm since it was established in 1869. The action of the company was in accordance with a recent decision of the United States supreme court upholding a national labor relations board order requiring a company to put into writing an oral agreement it had reached with the union.

Seeks Re-Election To City Council

James H. Quinn, organized labor's representative on the Oakland city council for the past 8 years, is again a candidate for re-election. Backed by the powerful central labor and building trades councils, A. F. of L. affiliates, Quinn is expected to win by a large majority vote next Tuesday. He has issued an "all out and vote" appeal to the members of organized labor of Oakland.

The table has been found one of the most popular of the many B & W premiums.

Political Comment

Every member of organized labor living in Oakland, is urged to go to the polls next Tuesday and vote.

No. 11, the 72-hour week for fire fighters, is receiving strong support from civic, fraternal, labor and veterans' organizations. Passage of No. 11 will assure the fire fighters a shorter work week, the first reduction in 20 years. Leaders such as Ben F. Morris, Congressman John H. Tolan and Albert Carter, Charles W. Real, William P. Fee, J. C. Reynolds and others are asking a "yes" vote on Amendment 11, the last amendment on the ballot.

Amendments Nos. 1 and 2, civil service for employes in the city attorney's office and in the office of the civil service board, are supported by the city employes' association and many labor groups. "Protect civil service" is the slogan used by the employes. Labor leaders are recommending passage of both amendments also.

The Non-Partisan Good Government League of Oakland, Henry Henning, secretary, is making a special appeal to the voters to reelect the entire slate of incumbent councilmen. Hennings said:

"Oakland is indeed fortunate to have such outstanding officials in office. Our city now has the lowest tax rate in 10 years, with a surplus in the treasury. The good work accomplished was done by the incumbent councilmen who have reduced taxes 21½ cents during the past 8 years."

Mrs. Helen H. Beever, wife of L. L. Beever of Engineers' Union, Local No. 507, candidate for school director, has the backing of the local union, headed by T. J. Roberts.

"Mrs. Beever is well qualified for the position she now seeks," Roberts said. "Because of her understanding of the labor movement, through her husband's connection with the A. F. of L., Mrs. Beever should receive a large number of votes from trade unionists. I urge her election."

A vote for Fred Morcom, candidate for councilman at large, city of Oakland, was requested of labor groups today by Al Morris, business representative of the local musicians' union. Morris said the following labor officials are backing Morcom for the city council:

Paul Fuhrer, Jack Reynolds, E. H. Vernon, William P. Fee, Jack Kopke, G. A. Silverthorn, Al Daul, Fred Irvin, Charles Figone, William Franklin, Louis Martin, T. J. Roberts, Walter East, W. W. Paterson, L. S. Handley, Jack Philpott, C. D. Gibbon, Bob Ash, Al Wahlberg, Jack Lubkert, Jim Suffridge, Russ Nathan, M. A. Hildebrandt and J. D'Arcy.

Thanking his friends for their undivided support, Morcom said:

"I shall deem it a privilege if elected to co-operate with City Manager Jack Hassler and the other members of the council on all matters affecting the city of Oakland."

Urging a "yes" vote on No. 11, the 72-hour week for firemen, William P. Fee stated:

"Oakland firemen have had

GREEN OPPOSED TO DEFENSE STRIKES; ASKS EXPULSION OF COMMUNIST PARTY MEMBERS

President William Green of the American Federation of Labor called upon all A. F. of L. unions to do everything in their power to avoid strikes in national defense industries.

Writing on "Labor's Obligation" in the April issue of the American Federationist, official monthly magazine of the A. F. of L., Mr. Green made it clear that he considers it the duty of unions, when serious controversies with employers arise, to submit the issues to mediation and arbitration.

"While we must insist upon fundamental principles," Mr. Green declared, "when collective bargaining breaks down we should submit issues to mediation and arbitration, doing everything within our power to avoid strikes.

"The future of our nation, our democratic institutions and the very existence of a free labor movement are at stake. The American labor movement will as always give unreserved service to the cause of freedom."

Mr. Green said the "key issue" in the present war is "personal freedom" and he added that this was "the goal which has inspired organized labor throughout the ages."

"In the name of the American Federation of Labor, I solemnly remind all national and international unions affiliated with the American Federation of Labor, their affiliated unions and all unions directly affiliated to the federation that our service and co-operation will have a determining influence both in the battle of Britain and in the planning and development of new world defense.

"Under legislation guaranteeing the right to union membership, we have made substantial progress in extending union organization. By responsible leadership and union co-operation for the effectuation of national defense we have opportunity to demonstrate the constructive nature of our movement and the responsible self-discipline which democratic institutions develop."

In a second signed editorial in the magazine, the A. F. of L. president characterized minority strikes and the presence of communists in positions of influence in labor unions as "the two gravest dangers which menace defense production."

The text of the second editorial follows:

"The American Federation of Labor declares that the gravest dangers which menace defense production are these: Tolerance of communist party members in positions of influence and minority strikes as a method for building up technical control to extend nominal organization.

"Communist leadership in local or national jurisdictions has been responsible for strikes that are nothing less than sabotage to our plans for national defense and has been responsible also for policies and advice that are nothing less than seditious. Tolerance for differences of opinion on religion or other fundamental issues is one thing, but tolerance for revolutionaries pledged to disregard all ethical standards to gain their objectives and undermine democratic institutions is the essence of stupidity and disloyalty to our nation.

"The American Federation of Labor is following through the policy of expelling communists wherever known. We do not tolerate them or permit them to hold office."

All out and vote next Tuesday in Oakland. It is an important election. Don't forget to vote for Amendment No. 11, 72 hours a week for fire fighters. Let's make it a big vote!

Move to Wipe Out Women's Minimum Wage Stopped at Sacramento

Fight Against "Open Shop" Outfit Proves Successful

Opposition by the California State Federation of Labor today stopped an attempt to wipe out all protective laws for women and minors on the statute books of California.

The move against the welfare laws protecting women and minors came in the form of a so-called "women's equal rights constitutional amendment," sponsored by Miss Sue Brobst, former employe of the notorious Neutral Thousands open shop women's organization.

Proponents of the measure objected vigorously to an amendment proposed by the California State Federation of Labor, and presented by Assemblyman Tenney, which would give women equal rights with men while at the same time protecting the women's minimum wage and hour law and other protective measures now on the statute books for women.

They admitted under questioning that they wanted women to have the right to work for $10 per week if they so desired, instead of being protected by the $16 minimum wage law now in effect.

JOBS AT PEAK

Jobs in industry rose by 265,000 in February, bringing the number of workers employed to the highest level on record for that month, Secretary of Labor Frances Perkins reported this week.

CARLOADINGS

In the week ended March 29, railroad carloadings rose to 792,125, a 25.9 per cent increase over the same week last year, and 31.9 per cent over that week in 1939.

NO CHANCE FOR A CHANCE

A firm in Denver is said to have received the following letter from a client whom they had pressed for a settlement:

"Once a month we put all our outstanding accounts on the table draw six at random, and pay them. If we have any more of your confounded impudence, you won't get a place in the shuffle next month."

Delegate Beatrice Christensen to the label league reported on Secretary Heinrich's interesting report, donations from various merchants, the interesting exhibit of the Ohio Glass works, Hoyt heating system. Mr. Ingram, president of the Safeway stores donated $150.00 for some benefit. Flower Basket floral shop in Richmond now union and their new business card carries the label.

See that the label is sewed in the garment when you buy it and not afterwards. Money Back Smith and Fruitvale toggery have been reminded about carrying labels on children's clothing. Secretary Heinrich is working very sincerely and hard on the displays, and the members should visit the label league often.

It was decided by motion that one-half of money raised at the labor temple auxiliary which (April 26) will be donated to the Montgomery Ward strike.

Other reports were given and acted upon. Installation to be held in May and plans to be made at our next meeting. Meeting adjourned with singing "God Bless America," with Mayme L'Heureux at the piano.

MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

Then came the final evening of the contest when each captain tried so hard for just one new member until the close Tuesday evening, April 1st, when all reports were given by membership chairman Bessie Hunt. Then came many hours of anxious waiting to know which captain had really won. After all counts were in the reports stood: Laura Sommerville won first award and Tessie O'Leary second for bringing in the most members with Captain Mary Logue's team in the lead. And now came the big problem how to entertain them? Finally a date was set for Tuesday evening, April 15, for the "treat" to be held in labor temple. Membership Chairman Bessie Hunt and the head team headed by Captain Mary Logue were happy to tell President Pearl Scott that there were 70 new members secured for her in her term. It has been a grand and glorious contest and a glorious victory but let's not stop here, let's each one of us resolve that we will each and all continue on in the same way by bringing in new members and increasing the growth of our auxiliary. For only by so doing can we earn the "well done" from our president.

Members be sure and be present at the "treat" Tuesday evening, April 15, 8 p. m., in labor temple to help the victorious team celebrate.

WHIST

Labor temple auxiliary will hold their annual whist party on Saturday evening, April 26th, at the labor temple, 2111 Webster street, tickets 40 cents. Hams and bacons will be given, which will include a door award that you will want to take home.

Past Presidents' Club of Auxiliary No. 97

I. A. of M.

Our April meeting was held on Friday evening, April 4 at the home of President Tessie O'Leary. Roll call found Sisters O'Leary, Dixon, Logue, Hoover, Granter, Petitt, Copp and Feddersen present. Sister Metteer was absent because of previous plans—a wedding anniversary party. Congratulations Sister Lorraine and Brother George, may you have many more happy years together.

Our philanthropy work taken care of, we discussed plans to swell our treasury and therefore be better able to take care of any philanthropy work that may arise. We have to cancel our plans for the intended trip through the Remar bakery, their dates are all filled for 1941. There will be a luncheon-whist at the home of Sister Granter in May, watch this column for further details and date.

Our next sewing day will be Friday (today), April 11, at the home of Sister Granter, 2618 West street, phone TEmplebar 4727 for directions. We realize this is Good Friday, but we hope some will be able to come and help us sew for a worthy cause. Bring your lunch, Sister Granter will furnish tea and coffee. If you can not come to any of our sewing days, but would like to help us, ask Sister Logue for something to work on, she is chairman and has material to give out. We will appreciate your assistance very much.

Plans are in the making for a picnic in June, more details later.

After the meeting closed Sister Tessie had several Easter games for us, the first one was the unscrambling of words and Anna Hoover was the victor. The unscrambled word proved to be, Easter Sunday. Next was an Easter egg hunt. Imagine we past presidents hunting Easter eggs. Whether you can imagine it or not, we did, and had loads of fun doing it. Anna Hoover was the best hunter, finding more eggs than anyone else, Anna Petitt was next best, and the rest of us sort of trailed along. We even tried to guess how many Easter eggs were in a candy jar. Mary Logue was the best guesser and she donated her award to Ora Granter for our whist in May. After we were seated at the table Sister Tessie asked if any of us could think of a familiar saying or verse that contained the names of three months. The writer guessed the right one, the verse being, "March winds and April showers bring the May flowers."

The table center-piece was a bowl of wisteria with tall lavender candles on either side. The table cloth and napkins carried out the Easter decorations. The refreshments were indeed a surprise, cracked crab with a special dressing, french bread, tiny green onions, celery and olives, and it was delicious. Cake, fruit, tea and coffee climaxed this lovely repast. We all had such an enjoyable evening that it was past the midnight hour before we left for our various homes.

Our May meeting will be held at the home of the writer on Friday evening, May 2.

Please don't forget our sewing day, April 11.

no reduction in working hours in over 20 years. The firemen must now work 84 hours a week. Cities such as San Francisco, Long Beach, Fresno, Emeryville, Los Angeles and Stockton now enjoy the 72-hour week. Oakland voters should be fair to the fire fighters and vote for No. 11."

James H. Quinn, organized labor's only representative on the city council, has been endorsed by the central labor and building and construction trades councils along with 150 other A. F. of L. groups. His backers predict an overwhelming victory for Quinn, April 15. Quinn has served 8 years on the council. He is a member of five international A. F. of L. unions.

In a letter to the press this week the brotherhood of teamsters and the electrical workers are asking the re-election of all incumbent councilmen.

In his talk before improvement clubs Jesse Benson, candidate for school director said the schools should take the initiative in helping to solve the problem of the "dead end kids." Benson is a candidate for director No. 3.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE TUESDAY, APRIL 15.

JEWELRY WORKERS WIN WALTHAM CO. ELECTION

Samuel E. Beardsley, general secretary-treasurer of the international jewelry workers' union, A. F. of L. affiliate, announced that Watch Workers' Union, Local 72, had won an overwhelming victory for the union as collective bargaining agent to represent the employes of the Waltham Watch Co., of Waltham, Mass., in an election sponsored by the national labor relations board. There were 1,903 votes cast for the local and only 391 against it.

Rubber Unit Recommends Forty-Cents Minimum

The Rubber Products Manufacturing industry committee of the wage and hour division recommended a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour in the rubber industry. If approved by Administrator Philip B. Fleming the recommendation will raise the hourly wage rates of 9,900 of the industry's 132,000 workers.

other words, it doesn't contain a seniority clause.

Third, if I was laid-off and wanted to get called when an employer had an opening, at least for an interview, I'd be out of luck . . . in other words, it doesn't contain a clause providing for hiring of out-of-work union members.

Fourth, there are many issues that arise under a union agreement that are not taken care of . . . in other words, it doesn't contain clauses to protect the workers that should be included and are included today in agreements held by Locals 1071 of San Francisco and 1101 of the east bay.

And last, Local 1053 is stuck with this agreement for five (5) long years . . . years that are going to be turbulent, topsy-turvy years.

As to wages, as nearly as we can figure it, there is an approximate 5-cent increase on the average . . . some as low as 2½ cents per hour and others as high as 12½ cents per hour. Bay region paint makers got their last raise in 1937 based on conditions, etc. of 1936. Since that time the cost of living has gone up 5 per cent. So what—so Local 1053 got back the "cut" all local paint makers took . . . but didn't get any share whatsoever of the increased profits that have been enjoyed by Fullers and the other paint companies during the last four years. Unless you count bonuses . . . and how certain are they?

EASTER SUNDAY SERVICES HERE

Sponsored by the east bay church federation the Easter Sunday sunrise services will commence at 6 a. m. at the Woodminister bowl in Sequoia park.

The bowl seats 5,000 persons and there is parking space for 4,000 cars. Busses, at regular fare, will leave 22nd and Broadway at 5:35 a. m. and will return immediately after the services.

WHAT NEXT?

E. C. Wallace, New York engineer, is proposing use of cotton instead of reinforced concrete for air raid shelters. He told members of congress that a 7-foot thickness of cotton would resist the penetration of a 6,000 pound bomb falling from 30,000 feet, whereas a 2,000 pound bomb falling 15,000 feet would penetrate six feet of reinforced concrete. The cotton can be fireproofed to resist incendiary bombs, Wallace said.
